1. Principles

We must devise and implement a curriculum that systematically builds positive and constructive relationships between all pupils and all adults. The 'learning episodes' of this curriculum happen in classrooms, shared spaces, on the journey to and from school, during school trips, in fact in all interactions between their peers and all adults. At Saltash Community School our high expectations for all pupils means that we always believe in continuous improvement and so will focus on guiding the choices pupils make, intentionally praising constructive behaviour and skill development. We will always challenge inappropriate choices and establish clear and consistent boundaries as described below.

- Clear – pupils and staff need to know exactly what excellent behaviours are and exactly what is expected of them, where, when and why.
- Calm – to guide effectively we need to understand and consider people's emotions and viewpoints and to achieve this effectively we need to remain calm and focussed.
- Caring – we care enough to be firm and respond in reliable and predictable ways but always with compassion. Focussing on maintaining firm boundaries around which choices should be better, whilst ensuring the person continues to feel well liked, appreciated and respected as they learn these.
- Consistent – all pupils should expect high standards and so all pupils require predictability of expectation and response as well as being able to trust the adults they work with hence consistency is paramount.

- Cheerful – all individuals respond effectively when approached positively, and therefore, when supporting changes in behaviour, we will endeavour to approach these in a positive way.

2. Aims

- To encourage a safe, caring and purposeful atmosphere in the school.
- To develop children's self-discipline, self-esteem and a sense of responsibility towards themselves and the school community as a whole.
- To promote a consistent approach to behaviour for learning by Pupils, Staff, Parents/Carers, Community Partners and Governors throughout the school.
- To encourage values of kindness, resilience and courage. honesty, respect and tolerance.
- To develop a sense common purpose and consistency amongst all those involved in the school.
- To promote and support positive behaviour.

The Relationships and Behaviour Policy is a statement of good practice that covers all aspects of school life, and that promotes the development and maintenance of good behaviour, and positive ethos. All members of the school community are expected to help maintain an atmosphere conducive to learning, with courtesy and mutual respect as basic requirements. A strong sense of community is fundamental to the success of Saltash Community School and its young people.

This policy applies to all students at all times of the day when in school uniform, when travelling to and from school, on site at Saltash Community School or representing the school whilst on trips, online or in their community.

This policy is regularly reviewed and updated annually. The policy is available via the school website. The policy is fundamental to the Home School Partnership Agreement (Appendix 1) which is issued to all parents and carers at the start of each academic year.

3. Roles and Responsibilities

The Governing Body establishes, in consultation with the Headteacher, staff and parents, the policy for the promotion of good behaviour and keeps it under review. It ensures that it is communicated to pupils and parents, is non-discriminatory and expectations are clear. Governors support the Headteacher in maintaining high standards of behaviour.

The Headteacher is responsible for the implementation and day to day management of the policy and procedures.

Staff, including teachers, support staff and volunteers, are ALL responsible for ensuring that the policy and procedures are followed, and consistently and fairly applied. They also have responsibility, with the support of the Senior Leadership Team, for creating a high quality learning environment, teaching good behaviour and implementing the agreed policy and procedures consistently. Staff are entitled to work in a safe, orderly environment free from disruption.

Parents and carers take responsibility for the behaviour of their child both inside and outside the school (see Home School Agreement: Appendix 1). They are encouraged to work in partnership with the school to assist the school in maintaining high standards of behaviour and uniform (see Appendices 1 & 2). Parents are encouraged to raise with the school any issues arising from the operation of the policy.

Pupils are entitled to a safe and orderly learning environment to assist them in achieving their full potential. They are expected to take responsibility for their own behaviour and are made fully aware of the school policy, procedure and expectations. Pupils also have a responsibility to ensure that incidents of disruption, violence, bullying and any form of harassment are reported. They are also expected to assist with the investigation by staff of any of these incidents.

The school acts in accordance with Department for Education guidance in relation to: i) the use of reasonable force (see restraint and positive handling policy); ii) screening, searching and confiscation (see Screening, Searching and Confiscation Policy, with particular reference to section 1.2 and 4.1.1); iii) allegations made against a member of staff.

If you have a safeguarding concern or would like to contact the school safeguarding team, please email safeguarding@saltashcloud.net Please note this is not an emergency contact and this inbox will not be monitored outside of working hours.

In the case of urgent concerns or out of hours emergencies, please contact: Cornwall Multi Agency Referral Unit or contact the police

If you have an urgent mental health concern out of school hours, please call the Cornwall and Isles of Scilly NHS Mental Health response line on 08000385300. It's free to access by anyone, any age, any time of day or night.

Part 1 – What excellent learning behaviours and social skills do we expect all students and staff to achieve?

- The school demonstrates high expectations for behaviour of all students and staff
- Clear expectations and responsibilities will be displayed, shared and communicated to enable all members of the community to be aware of them.
- These expectations apply to all members of the school community without exception.
- Like all skills development, relationship building and positive behaviours are not binary measures that are just 'good' or 'bad' but rather a continuum. All pupils have a right to understand their next steps in any skill and expect these skills to be developed whilst at school.
- See Appendices 2 and 3.

Our aim is to embed routines and systems which allow us to achieve our core behaviour objectives:

- 1) every student has the right to learn without distraction or disruption.
- 2) 100% silent attention 100% of the time when an adult or a student is speaking in a learning setting
- 3) Enable all students to access daily, weekly, termly and yearly opportunities for praise and rewards to ensure that students feel a strong sense of belonging and motivation to excel.

Part 2 – How do we teach these skills and behaviours?

2.1 Through Our Curriculum

- These skills are embedded in every lesson, a tutor or PSHE programme is included and additional guidance is provided through our behaviour curriculum, character curriculum, assemblies and key events in the year and community links.
 - At Saltash Community School, the behaviour curriculum clearly defines the expected standards of behaviour. It reflects the school's core values of Tenacity, Empathy, Aspiration, and Motivation, and the positive culture we strive to cultivate across our community. It outlines how expectations are explicitly taught, consistently reinforced, and embedded through daily routines and systems.
 - Through this approach, we aim to foster a community where students demonstrate tenacity in overcoming challenges, empathy towards others, aspiration for their future, and motivation to achieve their best. We support students in taking responsibility for their actions and understanding the consequences of their behaviour.
 - We are committed to encouraging our students to value diversity, respect others, and care for the environment in which they live. In doing so, we prepare them to become active, responsible citizens, ready to contribute positively to both the school community and wider society.
- The school is committed to engage children and adults in deeper learning experiences so that everyone understands why these skills and behaviours are so essential, what these look like in practice and so value learning them.
- By using the language of choice, we fix the locus of control, i.e. the personal responsibility, within the pupil. In other words, when they choose a particular behaviour, they are also choosing a particular consequence which may be a reward or a sanction. Utilising opportunities to explicitly teach correct behaviour alongside use of language of choice should be everyday practice from adults in the school.
- Sanctions do not in themselves change behaviour. They simply apply the limits to behaviour. Any system that seeks to rely largely, or wholly, upon sanctions will simply teach pupils how to become effective at avoiding sanctions. Therefore, every opportunity will be taken to teach pupils how to behave correctly. This process is supported by restorative justice principles within the school.

2.2 Through Our Routines

We want everyone to be given the mental space to think deeply about their learning and about how they work best with others. This is why we are committed to creating age appropriate routines so we don't waste mental space on all those things that we shouldn't need to think about such as:

- How to act on hearing a fire alarm

- How to share equipment fairly or queue for dinner fairly
- Who to talk to if things are not going well or you have a question
- How to make suggestions and improvements
- How to have the right equipment and the right books at the right time
- How to move calmly and safely around the school site
- What happens when someone has the wrong uniform on

Shared expectations and a common approach to managing young people needs to be acknowledged and applied by all staff consistently. These expectations are posted in a prominent position in every classroom. Behaviour for Learning posters are displayed in all classrooms and prominent areas and provide a summary of the school's routines, rewards and sanctions policies.

2.3 Through the Protection and Promotion of Our School Ethos

- All staff are required to actively promote the ethos of the school at all times including the role modelling of positive relationships and praise for behaviours that support peers and learning.
- Assemblies are used to model school values and publicly exemplify positive behaviours that reinforce the school's ethos.
- Strong expectations of professionalism and the importance of language in setting and maintaining these expectations throughout staff training and events.
- The school encourages staff and pupils to take pride in their working environment.
- The school actively promotes CPD for staff and apply the leadership ladders which are defined in the SMART expected standards document.

2.4 Through Our Pastoral Care and Use of Praise

- Positive consequences (rewards) are the key to the promotion of socially acceptable behaviour. Systems that emphasise praise for socially acceptable behaviour are consistently more successful in teaching pupils to make more positive choices.
- Pupils model the relationships they witness and so all interactions witnessed by the teacher are potential learning experiences in which guidance can be given.
- A school ethos of praise and encouragement, both formal and informal, is central to the promotion of good behaviour. As such, staff regularly praise and/or reward people who show what great behaviour looks like. Examples of such rewards appear in appendix 4.
- The school gives opportunities for children and staff to praise their peers if they showed great skill in helping them learn or improve their behaviour.
- Staff should clearly state when peer on peer or pupil to adult interactions fall short of our high expectations.
- The relationships curriculum is the responsibility of all staff and pupils at all times and the school will include regular staff training including identifying specialist teams who can deal with more complex restorative practices.
- Pupils who report incidents that have made them feel unsafe or uncomfortable will always be taken seriously and the issue dealt with respectfully.

2.5 Through Our Work with Parents

- The school will review their policy in consultation with parents/carers and pupils.
- The school will hold parent events to pass on examples of when children have shown real skill in their behaviours and their learning

- The school will provide consultation opportunities with parents to share ideas
- The school will provide time with parents to talk through plans for improving behaviour such as when children are finding it difficult to understand their behaviour
- The school will actively encourage positive relationships with parents and carers to develop a shared approach by involving them in the implementation of the school's policy and associated procedures;
- The school is outward facing and aim to make connections with the communities they serve, as contributors, role models and advocate for pupils and staff
- The school will publicise the achievements and excellent behaviours of their pupils and staff using use of local media and our website.

The school will actively promote their ethos and values to parents to help them understand the expected culture and practices in school, in ways that are respectful, even when there may be different cultures operating at home

Part 3 – How we maintain high expectations

Good order and discipline are essential to the provision of high standards of education. Pupils cannot learn, and teachers cannot teach if standards of behaviour are not acceptable. Strong and effective management, working in partnership with teaching staff and support staff, is essential to the establishment and maintenance of acceptable standards of behaviour. The school firmly believes that:

- Every student has the right to learn without distraction or disruption.
- 100% silent attention 100% of the time when an adult or a student is speaking in a learning setting.

Pupils make choices about their own behaviour. Therefore, it is not possible to control directly a pupil's behaviour. Rather, what effective practitioners do is to influence behaviour by consciously affecting the consequences which arise from the pupil's choice.

All staff who witness behaviour out of line with the ethos of the school or the breaking of a well-defined rule, will make sure the pupil knows they have made a mistake and understands what this mistake is so that they are less likely to repeat it. In this way, this event offers an opportunity to correct a misconception.

If the rule breaking is more serious or more frequent, it is vital that it is securely and centrally recorded. The recording and sharing of such incidents allows for the concept to be revisited more effectively as well as supporting the school when it reviews its system of rules, how clearly they are defined and how consistently they are reminded.

The Contract of Mutual Respect – Applicable in all cases

When an inappropriate choice is made the response of those involved should be subject to a contract of mutual respect as described below.

- The member of staff has a duty to avoid all forms of labelling and instead only talk about a mistaken or inappropriate choice that has been made. It is the inappropriate choice that must be the focus of the discussion and not any suggested fault in the character of the person.

- The person (pupil or staff member) has a duty to openly apologise in the first instance and to avoid using body language to give a false or staged apology. Taking assumed responsibility is recognised as a praiseworthy position.
- A pupil who has made an inappropriate choice, must avoid asking the adult who has pointed this out, to publicly justify their statement. Instead, they should recognise the authority and apologise in the first instance, trusting that there will be an opportunity for them to make their case confidentially and be listened to at another occasion should they need to.
- It is the responsibility of the Headteacher to ensure that all staff receive the necessary training to enable them to fulfil this contract effectively. This includes providing access to a senior member of staff who has the skills necessary to step in and arbitrate to complete the contract and ensure both parties learn from the process.
- Where the pupil has an identified special need that requires specialist support, a team with the appropriate skills should be available to the member of staff to complete the contract in a way that will progress the understanding of the pupil on their behalf. Reasonable adjustment may need to be made in liaison with the SENCo in line with the current Code of Practice.
- Every incidence of non-compliance makes future behaviour management harder and weakens this contract even if no further punishments occur after the apology.

If the contract of mutual respect has not been followed, then the issue is not yet closed and hence the opportunity for learning will have been lost. It must be the aim of all such events to identify responsibility for an inappropriate choice to decrease the chance of repetition. This process should always aim to be free of the concept of blame, trial and error being a recognised and valued form of learning.

The Role of Restorative and Peer Mediated Approaches

If a pupil who has made an inappropriate choice can consider the impact of their actions from the perspective of others and particularly from the perspective of the victim, then this often leads to a deeper understanding of the principles, a reduction in reoffending and greater confidence in the community that poor behaviour is less unpredictable or stressful. Such approaches, however, require high levels of training and understanding by those who manage them..

At Saltash Community School, we have invested in the training and provision of specialist staff to enable specific pastoral support and bespoke interventions to support excellent behaviour.

The Role of Collaborative Practice

Standards of behaviour and the approaches the school takes should have wide support and wide involvement. Hence pupils and staff must be consulted regarding any substantive change proposed and should be surveyed as part of the review into effectiveness

Proactive combating of prejudice

The school has zero tolerance of prejudice and discrimination between peers or between pupils and adults. All staff and pupils have the right to equal opportunity and to feel safe from harassment or prejudice in any form.

The school will include in the formal curriculum concepts of discrimination and clearly advertised mechanisms for the anonymous reporting of any incident that makes a pupil feel uncomfortable, victimised or excluded. These will include;

- Reporting of unwanted physical contact.
- Reporting of offensive or threatening images or messages.
- Reporting of terms or language they find offensive.
- Reporting of text books, AV and print materials that show bias or do not reflect their cultural or gender identities.
- Understanding of the term 'protected characteristics' and examples of where unintentional or intentional bias can occur.

Proactive prevention of bullying and peer on peer abuse

A separate anti bullying policy specifically deals with the positive promotion of peer relationships and the prevention of bullying and peer on peer abuse. However, the common principles of this policy appears below.

Peer-on-peer abuse is any form of physical, sexual, emotional, financial abuse, or coercive control, exercised between children, and within children's relationships, friendships and wider peer associations. Bullying and cyberbullying are the intentional repetition of such abuse over time on a particular individual.

- The school aims to create an environment based on equality and informed choice allowing pupils to know their rights, what to do if they are unhappy with something and what it means to give true consent.
- The school actively take reports of peer abuse and bullying seriously, keep records and decide at which point intervention in any peer relationship should be proposed.
- The school consistently aims to understand the wider context in which pupils live and appreciate the complexity and fluidity of circumstances meaning that pupils experiencing abuse in one context may be a perpetrator in another.
- The school aims to ensure young people know the risks – talk about peer on peer abuse in an age appropriate way including the concept of power, peer pressure and coercive control.
- The school trains staff to spot common signs and know what to do.
- All staff must understand that peer on peer abuse is enormously destructive and must be assumed to be always present and, so continuous vigilance and reinforcement of healthy relationships must be regularly built into the working pattern of the school.
- Restorative methods have been shown to be particularly effective in this area and the school has staff trained in these practices who can be called on in difficult cases.
- The school aims to clarify to pupils that they take every available step to protect the identity and ensure the safety of those who provide information.

Part 4 – The Use of Sanctions to Improve Behaviour

Sanctions are needed to respond to inappropriate behaviour. Our behaviour model and the range of sanctions used are clearly defined in the procedures (Appendix 5) and their use will be characterised by clarity as to why the sanction is being applied and what changes in behaviour are required to avoid future sanctions. The procedure makes a clear distinction between the sanctions applied for minor and major offences. Staff have a critical responsibility in ensuring the fair and equitable application of sanctions.

4.1 How we address minor infringements and low level disruption

A basic two page checklist for a consistent system is provided by DfE

What the law allows is set out in DfE guidance and is summarised below:

- Teachers can discipline pupils whose conduct falls below the standard which could reasonably be expected of them. This means that if a pupil misbehaves, breaks a school rule or fails to follow a reasonable instruction the teacher can impose a consequence on that pupil.
- To be lawful, the consequence (including detentions) must satisfy the following three conditions:
 - 1) The decision to sanction a pupil must be made by a paid member of school staff or a member of staff authorised by the headteacher;
 - 2) The decision to punish the pupil and the sanction itself must be made on the school premises or while the pupil is under the charge of the member of staff; and
 - 3) It must not breach any other legislation (for example in respect of disability, special educational needs, race and other equalities and human rights) and it must be reasonable in all the circumstances.
- The consequence can relate to an incident that happened off site if the pupil was in transit to or from school, on a school trip, in school uniform or engaging in behaviour that could pose a risk to others, a risk to the reputation or could have repercussions on the orderly running of the school. • Corporal punishment is illegal in all circumstances.
- Schools should consider whether the behaviour under review gives cause to suspect that a child is suffering, or is likely to suffer, significant harm. Where this may be the case, school staff should follow the schools' safeguarding policy.

Sanctions are recorded centrally using ClassCharts and where patterns or persistent behaviours emerge, the school has trained staff who can also consider whether continuing disruptive behaviour might be the result of unmet educational or other needs. At this point, the school will consider whether a multiagency assessment is necessary.

4.2 Repeated or more serious events that require on site detention or removal from lessons

Detention or removal from lessons for a limited period can signal more serious or persistent lapses in behaviour. The aim should be to close the behaviour incident with a reliable indication that learning has taken place (such as a sincere apology). Failure to close the incident should be escalated. In order to legally restrict the freedoms of individuals as a sanction the following conditions must apply.

- The conditions set out above for minor infringements must also apply
- The level of supervision must ensure the pupil's health, safety and welfare.
- There are no legal restrictions on the amount of time a pupil can be removed from lessons (or isolated) but this time must be spent as constructively as possible.
- Schools should also allow pupils time to eat or use the toilet.

Removal from a timetabled class

- This must be to a location which is under staff supervision.
- Work will be provided within a reasonable time, which is as closely matched to the work undertaken by the rest of the class or in line with the curriculum.

- The event will be recorded on Class Charts and any patterns analysed regularly for the attention of pastoral leaders and senior staff.
- Each event must be considered a serious event which requires a resolution.
- Reflection and analysis of the incident should occur between the staff member and their line manager to check for the need for further support or training.
- An incorrect use of the sanction should be seen as the responsibility of the line manager who should ensure training takes place for the member of staff.
- Whether the use of the sanction was correct or not correct should be confidential to the member of staff and not discussed with the pupil.
- Specialist response
 - o The main aim is for the child to recognise the mistake and use the opportunity to improve their understanding of behaviour. If specialist teams for SEND or any other group believe that a child requires a different form of sanction, then providing they can demonstrate it has impact for the child this alternative can be agreed by a member of the senior team.
 - o Any alternative sanction must publicly be seen as identical and therefore non-discriminatory by others. Hence, they may be treated in a different way but still effectively removed from their usual class.

A detention / Reset during school hours

- Refer to appendix 8 for reasons how detentions may be applied.
- This can take place without notice.
- Such detentions/Resets do not require the permission of a parent
- Any such detention/Resets should be supervised at all times
- Detentions/Resets can be punitive in nature or can focus on the insistence of practice in good self-control and hence can be conducted in silence.
- If detentions/Resets are used to address the causes of the poor behaviour then they are more effective if teacher who reported the incident is present for the discussion.

Sanction Duty:

Sanction duty is a form of "community service" which will be issued whenever a pupil damages school property or is caught littering.

Sanction duty is a sanction whereby the pupil will engage in a lunchtime or after school task designed to aid the smooth running of the school.

Sanction duty must be clearly related to the incident of misbehaviour and must be designed as a way of increasing the pupil's empathy of the impact of their actions to prevent re-offending. Such examples could include:

- Supporting the caretakers or cleaning staff
- Supporting technician staff
- Supporting individual departments in tasks
- Collecting litter

In carrying out these tasks it is essential that Health & Safety requirements are fulfilled.

Detentions out of school hours

Refer to appendix 8 for reasons how detentions may be applied.

The school has a clear legal authority to detain pupils/students without parental consent. However, the Trust has agreed the following conditions

- Parents/carers should be informed of the time and length of an out of hours detention. This notice will be provided via ClassCharts, phonecall or email. Parent/carer log in details for their Class Charts account will be provided annually as well as upon request.
- Parental inconvenience or travel arrangements can be disregarded provided that the pupil is not placed at risk.
- Detentions can be set on INSET days but not in holidays or weekends.

School staff should not issue an out of hours detention in the following cases;

- Where they know that doing so would compromise a child's safety, place them at risk or compromise their special needs or religious requirements.
- Whether the pupil has known caring responsibilities which mean that the detention is unreasonable. Additional notice may be provided to enable the detention to still occur.
- If the detention would result in the member of staff being isolated from other staff without a line of sight supervision, camera or adjacent circulation space.

Monitoring and Escalation

All detentions/Resets and periods of isolation must be recorded on Class Charts and clear guidance set for review. The school must set upper limits for the number of hours, days or occasions such sanctions are used and decide at what threshold a referral for internal review is made. See appendix 7 (p.35) for a list of threshold actions.

Students with an identified Special Need

- Where a student has an identified Special Need, careful consideration will be taken to ensure that the escalation issue did not occur as a result of the child's needs not being met.
- That if a sanction is to be given it is appropriate to the student's needs and/or disabilities and as such might be different to that given to a student without such needs, e.g. A series of detentions rather than internal suspension or exclusion, or in learning support rather than Refection.
- The SENCo should be involved in the decision-making process for serious sanctions involving students with SEND and any subsequently discussed with parents.

Part 5 – The Use of Exclusion as a Sanction

Please refer to the SMART Trust Relationships and Behaviour for Learning Policy for further information on suspensions and exclusions following the link below:

School Exclusions and Suspensions

Part 6 – Guidance for a selection of specific incidents

Some behaviours require specific guidance and training. These are listed below:

Physical intervention and positive handling

See the Positive Handling Policy.

Charging for damages

Please see the Charging Policy.

Confiscation of inappropriate items

- A teacher can lawfully confiscate, retain or dispose of a pupil's property as a punishment, so long as it is reasonable in the circumstances. The law protects them from liability for damage to, or loss of, any confiscated items provided they have acted lawfully.
- A teacher can lawfully search without consent for “prohibited items” including:
 - those which must be handed over to the police
 - knives and weapons
 - extreme or child pornography
 - Those which must be retained:
 - alcohol
 - illegal drugs
 - stolen items
 - Vapes & vaping fluid
 - Tobacco, cigarettes & cigarette papers
 - fireworks
 - pornographic images
 - jewellery (excessive)
 - mobile phones
 - any article that has been, or is likely to be used to commit an offence, cause personal injury or damage to property; and
 - Those which the school defines (Force cannot be used to obtain these):
 - any item banned by the school rules which has been identified in the rules as an item which may be searched for.
- Any such searches will be conducted in a space that is not overlooked by other pupils, with at least one other member of staff present at all times (see the Screening and Searching Policy).
- The pupil should empty their bag, pockets and shoes themselves, but force can be used where this is reasonable (see the Positive Handling Policy).
- A record of each search should be made (see the Positive Handling Policy appendices).

Substance Abuse

The taking/use of substances listed below will be referred to as substance misuse and the possession of such substances in school is not permitted:

Volatile (sniffable) substances (e.g. petrol, alkyl nitrites, butane, aerosols); over-the-counter medicines (e.g. Paracetamol, cough medicines); prescription medicines (e.g. tranquillisers, amphetamines, anabolic steroids); alcohol, tobacco, vapes, other legal drugs (e.g. caffeine), legal highs, illegal drugs (e.g. cannabis, heroin, LSD, or ecstasy).

The school works to try to prepare for the world in which they will live and will do all possible to prepare, inform and educate young people about the possible consequences of drugs use. We are committed to the health, safety and well-being of members of the school community and we will actively pursue a policy of "protection for everybody".

We believe and support the following educational aims in respect of substance use and misuse:

- To enable students to make healthy, informed choices by increasing knowledge, challenging attitudes and developing and practising skills.
- To provide relevant information about substances.
- To increase understanding about the implications and possible consequences of use and misuse.
- To widen understanding about related health and social issues, e.g. sex and sexually transmitted diseases, crime, HIV, AIDS and hepatitis (in conjunction with Sex Education/Health Education Policies).
- To seek to minimise the risks that users and potential users face.
- To encourage positive dialogue and learning through inter-active teaching within safe classroom boundaries e.g. PSHCE lessons.

Incident Response

The school will consider each substance misuse incident (suspected or actual) individually and recognises that a variety of responses will be necessary to deal with incidents. This may involve searching of lockers or asking students to turn out bags, pocket contents etc. If there is any suspicion of wrongful intent with regard to substances etc., the school will consider very carefully the implications of any action it may take. It seeks to balance the interests and welfare of the students involved, other school members and the local community. Permanent exclusion is likely to be strongly considered in cases of substance misuse.

Actual/Rumoured

In instances involving substance misuse, possession of or supply of (either actual or rumoured) parents/carers will be informed at the earliest opportunity by the Headteacher (or other designated person if not available). The school and the parents/carers can then work together to support the young person involved.

Disclosure

If a student wishes to disclose any information regarding substances, either personally or regarding others they should inform a member of staff. Staff will never guarantee a child absolute secrecy and the boundaries of confidentiality will be made clear to a young person before he/she is encouraged to disclose information. The whole school community recognises the need to deal sensitively with any issues related to children and their families and will not disclose information to any individual or agency without first considering the health and safety of the student.

Where it is suspected that substances are taken or sold on the premises, details regarding those involved, as well as any relevant information, will normally be passed to the Police Liaison Officer or appropriate agencies.

Working in partnership

The school works in close partnership with a range of agencies involved in the control of banned substances. These include the police service and outside agencies involved in the education of children around the dangers of substance abuse.

Smoking and vaping

The school maintains a no smoking / vaping policy within the building or on the school site. The school takes the smoking of cigarettes, vapes or e-cigarettes (or associating with smokers) by students very seriously, either on site or whilst travelling to and from school or engaging whilst in school uniform.

Smoking offences will result in a minimum consequence of a fixed term Internal Suspension (Reset). Repeated incidents may result in suspension.

Offensive Weapons

Any student who brings an offensive weapon onto the school site will receive a minimum consequence of an suspension, the duration of which will be decided by the Headteacher. The police will be notified in these instances.

Any student using an offensive weapon to physically harm or use the weapon to visibly threaten or harm on the school site will be permanently excluded.

The school will consider each incident (suspected or actual) individually and recognises that a variety of responses will be necessary to deal with such incidents. This may involve searching of lockers or asking students to turn out bags, pocket contents etc. to ensure that all members of the school community remain safe.

Joint enterprise

The UK law of 'Joint enterprise' enables the police to charge an entire group with a crime hence such measures are deemed to be a legally permissible response for use in schools. The use of this law however has sometimes been misinterpreted as joint responsibility for any action. There are however ways of determining relative involvement even when the quality of evidence is poor.

Praiseworthy actions within this definition.

- Those seeking help – these are the individuals who should be most highly praised and who represent the promoted model.
- Those distancing themselves – also should be praised but also given guidance when seeking help is needed.
- Those being critical of the group or supportive of the victim – whilst such actions may help, they can also inflame tensions and extend the incident. Such actions can also put the individual in harms way and should be discouraged. A balance must be struck between sensitive use of such role models and ensuring the care of individuals.

Actions which should lead to education and disciplinary action.

- Observers – is it clear to those feeling intimidated that the observers are not part of the victimising group? If there is a clear connection then their role can be interpreted as hostile witness or part of the role of intimidation. This role should be reprimanded and recorded but is not in itself subject to serious disciplinary action. Observers who fail to provide evidence may be themselves intimidated hence this cannot be used as a rule. The understanding from those in the group that they are connected is the evidence that should be used.
- Participation
 - Encouragement – If the individual has uttered anything or made noises with their hands for example that could be interpreted by others as giving their support or enjoying the issue or urging others on, then the law counts them as being partly responsible for the crime. There are cases of individuals under the law being fully charged for the offense for such actions
 - Named – If the individual is named in the investigation as having had a role then this increases the scope for disciplinary action.
 - Direct action – If the actions of the named individual enabled the crime to occur. If they for example were to have made suggestions that were followed or prevented the individual from leaving intentionally but without physical contact.
- Physical contact
 - Those making intentionally harmful or restrictive physical contact with the individual as part of an unequal gang that outnumbers the victim group should be placed at a level of responsibility above those earlier listed and hence the disciplinary measures could extend to permanent exclusion depending on the circumstances and nature of the contact.
- Leadership
 - Those who orchestrate a situation regardless of carrying it out themselves or not should be held at that highest level of responsibility.

Part 7 – Continuous Improvement

The Governing Body and the member of the Senior Leadership Team (SLT) with responsibility for continued professional development (CPD) will endeavour to secure appropriate high quality training on all aspects of behaviour management to support the implementation of the policy for all staff. Training in behaviour management must be available to all teaching and non-teaching staff. Training must be research led, making use of peer reviewed work such as the independent review of behaviour in schools by Tom Bennet on behalf of the DfE

Involvement of outside agencies

The school actively engages with other schools in the South East Cornwall area, including the Caradon Alternative Provision Academy to support pupils. The school also fully engages in multi-agency intervention in liaison with the Local Authority and external agencies, including the police. It seeks appropriate support to ensure that the needs of all pupils are met by utilising the range of external support available.

Review

The Headteacher, in consultation with the staff, will undertake systematic monitoring and conduct regular reviews of the behaviour for learning policy and procedures in order to evaluate them to ensure that the operation is effective, fair and consistent. This will take place through a variety of forums.

The Governing Body and the Trust Board will receive a regular statistical review of pupil management issues and information about difficulties concerning individual pupils.

The Governing Body will regularly review this policy and procedures through the monitoring of pupil data (merits; referrals; internal exclusions; exclusions; managed moves, etc.) by whole school and by specific groupings (gender; ethnicity; Children in Care; Register of Need; Gifted and Talented; Year group) to ensure its continuing appropriateness and effectiveness.

The outcome of the review will be communicated to all those involved, as appropriate.

The school has adopted this policy with due regard to Government guidance.

A number of events can trigger a review to occur in school. These include the following;

- A national serious case review
- A noted new repeated pattern of behaviour in the school
- Lines of enquiry arising from anonymous reporting
- If an incident occurs in school which results in more than three pupils receiving exclusions.

Welcome to TEAM Saltash. We use the acronym 'TEAM' because we recognise the necessity for all parties to work together to ensure the best outcomes for our young people. We encourage our students to develop their Tenacity, Empathy, Aspiration and Motivation at all times. When we all meet the expectations below, we can Achieve More Together.

School Responsibilities

We acknowledge our responsibility to support parents/carers in their task of supporting and developing their child to achieve their best within a caring community. Therefore, we will:

- | |
| <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ provide a friendly welcome to your child and a secure, stimulating environment in which to learn; |

- safeguard your child.

Parental Responsibilities

As parents/carers, we acknowledge that we are the primary educators of our children and have an irreplaceable role to play in supporting our children's learning at Saltash Community School.

Therefore I/we will:

- ensure that my child attends school every day, on time, in correct school uniform and fully equipped;
- ensure that family holidays are taken outside of term time;
- give my child opportunities for home learning and check the completion of homework;
- inform school of any concerns regarding my child's learning or welfare;
- support the values of the school community and encourage my child to do his/her best;
- support the school's policies and guidelines for behaviour including after school detentions and conduct to and from school;
- attend all parents' evenings and meetings about my child, as deemed necessary;
- support the school's approach to online safety and will not upload, share or add any pictures, videos or text that could upset, offend or threaten the safety of any member of the school community, nor damage our school's reputation.

Student Responsibilities

I acknowledge the different and unique talents which I have been given and my responsibility to use them wisely.

I will strive to develop my:

TENACITY: I will produce work above and beyond my previous best; work outside of my comfort zone and attempt, and complete, difficult tasks.

EMPATHY: I will share with, care for, and support others in my class (emotionally, academically and physically).

ASPIRATION: I will always have a well-presented book; actively try and make good progress in my lessons to support good/improved grades in tests; take a leadership role in class, challenging myself in my learning.

MOTIVATION: I will show a desire to learn; regularly respond to and ask questions; always bring the correct equipment; and display excellent behaviour at all times.

Therefore, I will follow the school's guidelines, as follows:

- behave appropriately at all times, including to and from school;

- attend detentions if set;

- observe all the school rules and treat everyone with respect;

- speak to my tutor or Head of Year if I need to discuss anything;

- demonstrate the school values at all times;

- support the school approach to online safety and not upload, share, or add any pictures, videos or text that could upset, offend or threaten the safety of any member of the school community.

Appendix 2 : Expectations of pupils

Learning Expectations: Pupils

Our core aims are:

Every student has the right to learn without distraction or disruption.

Students demonstrate 100% silent attention 100% of the time when an adult or a student is speaking.

Everyone has the right to work successfully, safely and enjoyably without distraction. To enable this to happen we need to be clear about the rules and expectations.

Going to Lessons

- Walk calmly and quietly about school using the most straightforward or recommended route;
- Always keep to the left when walking in crowded areas;
- Move quickly to your next lesson;
- Queue outside the room quietly in single file.
- Arrive at each lesson punctually

Start of Lessons

- Enter rooms sensibly and sit where you are asked to.
- Take out the correct books, pens and equipment.
- Put bags away (not on desks) preferably under your table or seat.
- Remain silent during the register (except when your name is called).

During Lessons

- When your teacher talks to the whole class remain silent, listen and concentrate.

- If the class is asked a question, do not call out. Wait until you are asked to answer.
- You are expected to work sensibly with your work partners; do not distract or annoy them.

Speak only with a 'partner voice', do not call across the room.

- Display appropriate listening protocols when others are speaking.
- Eating and chewing in class is not allowed.
- When answering questions or talking be polite, speak clearly and do not distract or disrupt others.

End of Lessons

- You should not begin to pack away or put on outdoor wear until your teacher tells you to do so.
- When told, stand and push in your chair and tidy the tables; pick up any litter near you.
- Only when your teacher dismisses you may you leave the room. Leave quietly and sensibly.

Working with adults in the school

- Teachers and other staff are in the position of parents/guardians while you are in school; This means that there is no excuse for rudeness, disrespect or defiance towards any member of staff.
- Any reasonable request from a teacher should be carried out at once and without argument.
- Do not answer back. Talk problems through with your teacher later.
- Similarly, all staff will treat young people with respect whether they are teaching them, praising them, or issuing sanctions

Uniform

- Uniform expectations are clearly communicated to parents and students.
- Inappropriate uniform, including excessive jewellery, false eyelashes, acrylic nails, will be confiscated.
- Efforts will be made by the school to provide reasonable alternatives to support students to meet the uniform expectations.
- Removal from lessons (Reset) will be used if confiscation or provision of appropriate and reasonable alternatives is not appropriate, practical or is refused by the student (wearing leggings or unnatural hair colour for example) or where repeated failure to wear correct uniform is reported.

Mobile phones / Smart linking electronic devices

- Mobile phones and smart devices are brought into school at the pupils' own risk.
- They should be turned off and out of sight in a school bag at all times whilst on school site.
- Mobile phones and connecting electronic devices will be confiscated if seen or heard. This includes if the device is visibly on their person and not in bags. It is reasonable for staff to request students present the device when believed to not be in bags as required.

- Please note pupils can use either the Head of Year office or the Learning Support Department to make urgent calls.
- Where there is repeated use of or confiscation of mobile phones and electronic devices then parental collection from school may be required or electronic device agreements made whereby these are handed in daily and not brought to school.

Appendix 3: Expectations of Teachers

Expectations: Learning Agreement: Teachers

It is the classroom teacher's job to create and sustain a positive, supportive and secure learning environment. Well prepared stimulating lessons engage enquiring minds and support good behaviour. Behaviour incidents (positive and negative) must be recorded accurately on Class Charts, in a timely manner.

In more detail this means that teaching staff should:

- Foster a climate that supports our 'basic classroom expectations', agreed norms and protocols.
- Support good order in corridors at the start of the day, at lesson change overs, at social times and at the end of the day, whenever possible.
- Arrive before the class and begin on time. Thresholding to 'Meet and greet'.
- Ensure pupils are lined up quietly when applicable.

- Be prepared for the lesson and ensure that lesson purpose is known by pupils.
- Know the pupils as individuals – by name and by attainment. Call them by their first names.
- Abide by the school's expectation from the first lesson onwards.
- Model the standards of courtesy expected from pupils.
- Ensure that all pupils are able to participate fully in the lesson.
- Emphasise the positive, including praise for good behaviour as well as good work.
- Make sparing, fair and consistent use of reprimands and target the right pupil.
- Address the behaviour and not the person.
- Use private rather than public reprimands where possible.
- Avoid sarcasm and threats, which are not subsequently carried out.
- Use positive language – this includes using the 'language of choice' to outline next steps if behaviours continue.
- Use every opportunity to reteach and promote positive and appropriate behaviours.
- Avoid whole group punishments and humiliation.
- Keep to time in the lesson and finish on time.
- Ensure an orderly exit.
- Reflect upon classroom management and learn from it.

It must be emphasised that it is the primary responsibility of staff to deal with discipline themselves in the first instance. Teachers in the classroom can apply a range of positive discipline strategies including:

- Use non-verbal communication e.g. 'zip the lips' for silence.
- Point out the learning expectations and remind them regularly.
- Use embedded learning routines to provide clarity and consistency for pupils
- Teach basic social interactive rules, then remind and monitor.
- Demand reciprocal respect e.g. 'I'm not speaking to you like that'.
- Use the least intrusive intervention e.g. talk to latecomers later.
- Give the pupil a face-saving alternative.
- Deal with individuals away from their peers to avoid unnecessary confrontation. •
Make sure routines and procedures are properly established
- Influence pupils through positive role modelling.
- Explain what the student has done when disciplining.
- Use 'language of choice' to explain next steps if inappropriate behaviours continue. Use this opportunity to reteach positive behaviour.
- Make sure the student knows you 'care' about what happens. • Appeal to the emerging adult within clear boundaries
- Set clear time boundaries and stick to them.
- Follow up problems later (as long as the class realises this is happening) pointing out that uninterrupted teaching and learning are of paramount importance.
- Clarify what you expect 'next time' - reteach positive behaviour.

- Be positive, have high expectations, be optimistic.

Appendix 4: Use of rewards

Pupils have a right to receive fair and consistently applied rewards for good behaviour and hard work. We consider it important that praise and rewards should have a considerable emphasis within school and pupils will thus achieve recognition for a positive contribution to school life. Such a contribution includes sound academic work and effort, good behaviour, leadership, help and support and adherence to the school's expectations. All pupils should be valued regardless of the academic ability or behaviour. It is expected that good standards of behaviour will be encouraged through the consistent application of our expectations supported by a balanced combination of rewards and punishments within a constructive school ethos.

Each of our positive points are linked to our 'TEAM' values:

Praise is always effective. Staff will know by experience how public this should be for each pupil. Praise can be awarded to individuals for displaying desirable attributes. Praise can be verbal congratulation, non-verbal or through the allocation of positive points recorded on Class Charts.

We also endeavour to run various celebration events and reward days throughout the year to recognise students who are demonstrating positive behaviour and attitudes.

Appendix 5 : Sanctions / Negative consequences

Sanctions are used to recalibrate pupil's unwanted behaviours. They are designed to change behaviours not simply to punish. Where pupils do not amend their behaviours, the sanctions will escalate but at all times the school will seek to put in necessary support to help the pupil make the desired change. Dealing quickly and appropriately with minor incidents often prevents them turning into more serious issues.

Where a student's conduct falls below the standard which could reasonably be expected of them the school will impose sanctions/consequences in response to student misconduct. The structure of consequences is set out below:

In-class:

The school follows an in-class 3 step warning system in lessons, which enables pupils to see clearly the response of the teacher to their behaviours and gives them ample opportunity to change.

1st warning (soft) : Use 'language of choice' and positive framing to explain potential next step. Name on board as visual reminder. Reteach positive behaviour.

2nd warning (formal): Student informed. Teacher records formal warning using Class Charts. Reteach positive behaviour. *-1 point added to student record on Class Charts

3rd incident - Reset. Student removed from lesson and sent / escorted to Reset. Teacher records Reset on Class Charts.

Behaviours after a 1st warning are recorded on Class Charts, allowing patterns of behaviour to be identified.

In the first instance it is imperative that the teacher takes ownership of challenging inappropriate behaviour via the implementation of classroom and pupil expectations and the rewards and sanctions systems. It is critical that staff adhere to the policy to achieve consistency across the school. Staff should follow the flow chart above.

Detentions:

Reset:

The duration of the Reset will be dependent on:

Number of Resets received that school day:

First Reset of the day = Students will complete a reflection task within Reset for a minimum of one learning session. Unless arrival occurs in the latter half of the lesson sent from.

Second Reset of the day = Students will complete a 3 session Reset (including a break time). This duration would carry over to the next school day if not fully completed.

Severity of incident – Behaviours that are deemed to be unsafe, dangerous or abusive will result in a minimum of three sessions and a break time.

If a student refuses to leave the class following the decision to send a child to Reset, A2L or SLT will be called. In these cases, the student will receive an escalated duration or sanction.

Escalation

In some instances, it may be that a student's behaviour is more serious than to be dealt with by the '3 warnings.' In these circumstances, students may be placed in Reset pending investigation, or they may be issued with an alternative duration or sanction.

Escalation issues:

Escalation issues are very serious misbehaviours and include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Swearing at anyone abusively
- Swearing in response to an instruction
- Violent behaviour

- Bullying
- Racial and homophobic abuse
- Refusal to follow instructions
- Truancy (Lesson refusal or more than 10 minutes late to lesson without reason)

Escalation processes:

- The escalation issue will be investigated by a PSA / HOY / SLT. The probable outcome will be, as a minimum, a reset or, in some circumstances, immediate fixed term suspension or even permanent exclusion.
- Failure to comply in Reset may result in a 0.5 - 5 day Fixed Term Suspension.
- It is vital that all parties involved in the incident are given the opportunity to make representations.

It is best for written statements to be taken and put on record. Incident details should be recorded on Class Charts and a student's behaviour record (available on SIMS and Class Charts) should be viewed and taken into consideration.

- The school refers to the National Standard List of reasons for suspensions (appendix 6).

Following a suspension or exclusion:

- Following internal or fixed term suspension pupils and their parents/carers will be expected to attend a reintegration meeting. Please note this is not a legal requirement, and a pupil cannot be refused re-admission just because a parent declines to attend. In practice this is not normally an issue as most parents are keen to work with staff. It is recommended that the a member of the SEND or Safeguarding team is present at all readmissions for pupils with Education Health and Care pupils and Children in Care.
- In this meeting, the conditions of returning to lessons will be laid down, including repair and rebuild with the offended parties as well as putting support in place to enable to pupil not to re- offend (see reintegration meeting proforma in appendix 9). Restorative justice approaches will also be suggested if deemed appropriate.
- As part of every suspension, students will be expected to spend a period of time in 'Ready to Learn' before they re-enter timetabled lessons. 'Ready to Learn' expectations and reintegration targets must be demonstrated before being fully reintegrated back into lessons. Failure to successfully complete 'Ready to Learn' will result in a further period of time in 'Ready to Learn' or an additional external suspension.

Returning to school is a fresh start but the suspension remains; it is not an indication that the student can work their way through the levels of sanctions again. Parents and students are informed that further incidents will result in another longer suspension or permanent exclusion.

- Students who disrupt persistently will be subject to a Pastoral Support Plan, which may include an exit strategy such as an Offsite Direction or Managed Move to enable the pupil to have a fresh start in another school. The plan will specify manageable short-term targets to monitor and improve the behaviour and achievement of the student. At this stage it is essential to consider what, if any, in-school support can be engaged to help matters. For some students, it might be appropriate to have an amended curriculum plan, e.g. work experience or part-time school as a part of a planned reintegration progression, etc. In some circumstances a risk management plan and/or external agency will be introduced or, if already in place, will be reviewed. If a team teach plan is required, the child will be shown the positive handling procedures prior to them being employed (see Restraint and Positive Handling Policy).

- Any pupil with two external Suspensions cannot represent the school during that half term and will be allowed on school visits ONLY if integral to their curriculum. It may be necessary for a risk assessment to be undertaken depending on the nature of the pupil's behaviour record.
- Pupils in Year 11 may be withdrawn from the privilege of attending the Leavers' Prom if their behaviour is persistently poor.

Appendix 6: National standard list of reasons for exclusions

The government trusts headteachers to use their professional judgement based on the individual circumstances of the case when considering whether to exclude a pupil. The reasons below are examples of the types of circumstances that may warrant a suspension or permanent exclusion.

This provides descriptors of reasons for exclusions.

- Abuse against sexual orientation and gender identity including bullying
- Abuse relating to disability including bullying
- Alcohol related
- Bullying
- Cyber-bullying or threatening behaviour online
- Damage to property
- Drug related
- Found to have brought a weapon or prohibited item into school
- Harmful sexual behaviour
- Inappropriate use of social media or online technology
- Misandry behaviour
- Misbehaviour outside of school
- Misogynistic behaviour
- Persistent disruptive behaviour – challenging behaviour
- Persistent disruptive behaviour – low level disruption
- Physical assault against a pupil
- Physical assault against an adult
- Racist abuse including bullying
- Sexual misconduct
- Smoking related
- Theft
- Use of mobile phone
- Use or threat of use of an offensive weapon or prohibited item
- Vape related
- Verbal abuse/threatening behaviour against a pupil
- Verbal abuse/threatening behaviour against an adult

Wilful and repeated transgression of protective measures in place to protect public health

Note: This list is not exhaustive and is intended to offer examples rather than be complete or definitive. The Department collects data on suspensions and permanent exclusions from all state-funded schools via the termly school census. Schools must provide information via the school census on pupils subject to any type of suspension or permanent exclusion in the previous two terms. 22 Up to three reasons can be recorded 23 for each suspension or permanent exclusion (where applicable).

Appendix 7: Example suspension letter

XXXX

June 2026

Dear XXXXX

NAME:

FORM:

DOB: xx/xx/xx

Suspension: xx/xx/xx

Following the recent contact from XXX, I am writing to confirm my decision to suspend XXXX for a fixed period of XX. This means that she will not be allowed in school for this period. The suspension begins on xx/xx/xx and ends on xx/xx/xx.

I realise that this suspension may well be upsetting for you and your family, but the decision to suspend XXXX has not been taken lightly. XXXX has been suspended for this fixed period due to the following:

- Persistent or general disruptive behaviour

You have a duty to ensure that your child is not present in a public place in school hours during this suspension unless there is reasonable justification for this. I must advise you that you may receive a penalty notice from the local authority if your child is present in a public place during school hours on the specified dates. If so, it will be for you to show reasonable justification.

XXXX should remain at home or under the direct supervision of yourself or a representative of the family. For the duration of this suspension, during school hours, XXXX should access learning tasks assigned via Class Charts and Sparx. Online lessons can also be accessed specific to their year group through the online Greenshaw remote learning curriculum <https://www.greenshawlearningtrust.co.uk/virtual-curriculum>.

You have the right to make representations about this decision to the governing body/management committee. If you wish to make representations please contact clerk@smart-trust.net, as soon as possible. Whilst the governing body/management committee has no power to direct reinstatement, they must consider any representations you make and may place a copy of their findings on your child's school record.

You should also be aware that if you think the suspension relates to a disability your child has, and you think disability discrimination has occurred, you have the right to appeal, and/or make a claim, to the First Tier Tribunal.

(<https://www.gov.uk/courts-tribunals/first-tier-tribunal-special-educational-needs-and-disability>)

Following this suspension, you and XXXX are requested to attend a reintegration meeting with XXX on XXXX at (Insert time) at Saltash Community School. The purpose of the reintegration meeting is to discuss how best your child's return to school can be managed. Failure to attend a reintegration interview will be a factor taken into account by a magistrates' court if, on future application, they consider whether to impose a parenting order on you. Whilst your child's right to an education will not be withheld should this not be attended temporary adjustments may be made to their in-school provision until this can take place.

As per of our behaviour policy, "students will be expected to spend a period of time in 'Ready to Learn' before they re-enter timetabled lessons. 'Ready to Learn' expectations and reintegration targets must be demonstrated before being fully reintegrated back into lessons. Failure to successfully complete 'Ready to Learn' will result in a further period of time in 'Ready to Learn' or an additional external suspension."

You also have the right to see a copy of XXXX's school record. Due to confidentiality restrictions, you will need to notify me in writing if you wish to be supplied with a copy of XXXX's school record. I will be happy to supply you with a copy if you request it. There may be a charge for photocopying.

You may also find it useful to contact the Coram Children's Legal Centre. They aim to provide legal advice and information to parents on state education matters. They can be contacted on 01206 714650 or on <http://www.childrenslegalcentre.com/>. The advice line is open from 9am to 8pm Monday to Friday, except Bank Holidays and 24 December to the 1 January.

XXXX's suspension expires on Thursday 12, and we expect XXXXX to be back in school on Friday 13 April 2026.

Yours sincerely,

Mrs S Del Gaudio

Headteacher
